Poets to read at Netcong eatery

The Tapestry Café, 6A Route 183 South and Ledgewood Avenue in Netcong, will host a featured reading with local poets John J. Trause, Diana Tuorto and Randi Clarken from 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 10 followed by an open mic for fellow poets.

Trause has been writing and reciting his poetry for 25 years. His poetry, translations and visual work have appeared in many diverse journals and periodicals.

Tuorto has been writing fiction and poetry since she was 10. In March 2006, her first collection of poems was published, entitled "Let the Horses Die: Poems of Longing, Love, and Loss from 1997 to 2005."

Clarken, a New Jersey writer, photographer and graphic artist, is the 2007 editor of "Goldfinch," the literary journal of Women Who Write, a Madison-based writers' group. For information, email lunar_aradia@yahoo.com.
